

BUMMED

California is in a great deficit which has created a lot of slack

9.2 billion dollars to be exact

How sad for the ones that refi to the max

Because in the end they are getting know cash back

Education is they key

At some point well see

How much this will negatively affect our economy

We know that history repeats itself

How sad that it always comes down to wealth

In the end it's all about helping yourself

Unemployment is at rise

But California still closes its eyes

If everyone took the time to vote

Maybe then we all wouldn't be this boat

If we don't take care of the deficit now

Generations to come will really be bummed
