

Doing What's Right

I stand in the land formed by Mother Nature

A land of the free, but now in debt

A 9.2 billion dollar deficit, how could this be?

We are all to blind to see,

Working together is what we need.

Stakeholders come together there needs to be more collaboration

No more cutting money from our education,

That's all we have to build a better life.

Let's tax the richest, and give back to the poorest

Why not, they have money to spare

It's only fare.

Then maybe our deficit will reduce,

Let's increase the tax on businesses because of what they produce,

Alcohol, cigarettes they only harm the human kind anyway

Why not, people buy it every day.

No more changes that affects the citizens.

Why would we cut money from human and health services?

Don't we want to see our citizens living a better and healthy life?

Let's do what's right,

Even if our budget is a little tight.
